Algerian Journal of Health Sciences

Édition de l'Agence Thématique de Recherche en Sciences de la Santé
(ATRSS)

ABOUT AJHS

AJHS is a scientific journal that publishes 2 issues per year, dedicated for researchers and professionals in all fields of specialization in health sciences, natural and life sciences. Being the official publication organ of the Thematic Agency of Research in Health Sciences (ATRSS), the journal is supported by the Directorate General of Scientific Research and Technological Development (DGRSDT).

The AJHS is published electronically on the ATRSS website at <https://ajhs.atrss.dz/ajhs-accueil.php>.

No payment is required for the submitted works. AJHS is governed by the Creative Commons Attribution-Non-Commercial 4.0 International Convention (CC BY-NC 4.0).

OBJECTIVES

With its multidisciplinary character, AJHS is at the crossroads of many specialties in the field of health sciences. It is therefore a real forum for discussions and exchanges between all specialists. The journal publishes essays, original articles, clinical cases / facts, technical notes and brief communications, letters to the editor, as well as articles / summaries in the field of health sciences. Special issues will obviously be published according to the events or seminars or workshops organized by the agency.

The objective is to:

- structure a community of Algerian researchers working in the field of health sciences;
- publish, at regular intervals, the recent results of the submitted research work;
- provide reliable and accessible information to researchers and users;
- appreciating and archiving significant advances in scientific knowledge.

Furthermore, the AJHS publishes themed issues related to recent data. Manuscripts are submitted in Arabic, French, and English.

Aiming to guarantee the proper functioning and the quality of the publication, as well as its life expectancy, the AJHS will have to be organized in several editorial bodies according to the specialties of the health sciences field (see Platform) which must be implemented.
